DIVERSEartLA Program Highlight

DIVERSEartLA 2023 involves the participation of international museums, art institutions and non-profits engaging local and global art experts and thought-provoking scientific figures to generate innovative ideas and drive social change through art.

For the second year in a row, DIVERSEartLA, curated by Marisa Caichiolo, is focused on raising awareness about climate change. This year’s program explores water and the record-breaking drought in California. Here’s a look at one of the DIVERSEartLA programs addressing this issue:

SKID ROW Cooling Resources/ Homeless Health Care Los Angeles (HHCLA) / LOS ANGELES

Project: Community Engagement
Curator: Tom Grode

We Are Water! We are mostly water, so climate change and water are not separate from us. They’re part of us. Downtown Los Angeles is an urban heat island and the residents of Skid Row are particularly vulnerable. Skid Row Cooling Resources was created in 2021 to address this reality. Check out this important exhibit!

Artwork by Actor Val Kilmer on view at Fabrik Projects at the LA Art Show

A selection of artwork by Val Kilmer is being presented by Fabrik Projects at the LA Art Show. Best known as an actor, Kilmer has been making art his whole life, focusing on painting, sculpture and video installations for the last decade. “I’ve developed strong and nuanced themes in my art from acting and performance that relate to iconic images or ideas - so there’s a thread of the icon, the Iconographic and the ethereal throughout the work.”

Among featured work, are pieces from various series by Kilmer, including his Icon paintings, God panels and abstract works. In the Icon series, Kilmer uses painting to investigate the nature of Icons and explore themes of celebrity, identity, reproduction and American mythic archetypes.

The GOD Panels are individually painted laser-cut metal panels of the word GOD in which Kilmer invokes the word GOD as the ultimate Icon.

The abstract works are painted works, more in the spirit of Russian Icons, replacing wood with metal. Windows into another world, the larger abstract works are generated from high-resolution scans of the painted metal panels in which only a small window of the fractal world is blown-up to reveal yet another window.

Visit Fabrik Projects in Booth 709/808.
